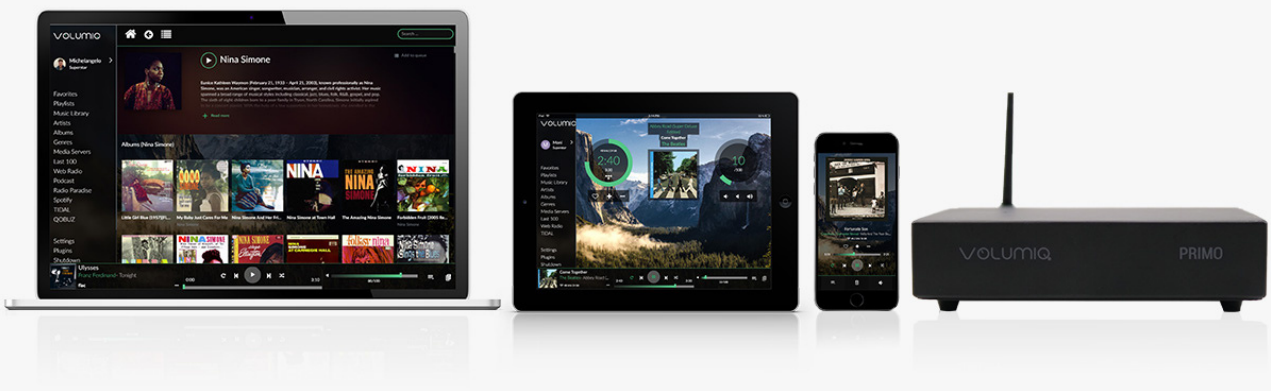
VOLUMIO®

THE AUDIOPHILE MUSIC PLAYER

ABOUT VOLUMIO

Volumio is a high-quality music player system that allows you to play all your music in one single place, always providing the best sound quality possible.

This can be possible by installing the Volumio system on microcomputers such as the Raspberry Pi or using our complete streamer (Volumio Primo). Easily controlling it on your phone, computer or tablet.



VALUES

Since the launch of Volumio back in 2013, our goal has been to provide the best music experience possible and make it available to everyone in a seamless and convenient way.

- Simplicity: Volumio is often referred to as a “no-frills” Audiophile Music Player, and this is one of the most appreciated aspects of it. As in many other engineering and social fields of applications, simplicity is the ultimate sophistication and we’re committed to keep it that way.

- Innovation: To change the way we listen to music, we are continuously searching for innovative solutions to push our standards to higher levels. Researching for new and improved technologies is one main priority to create the music experience of the future.

- Versatility: Sound quality, ease of use and the ability to play any kind of music source. We believe working hard to give this perfect trifecta is how we build ground-breaking results all music lovers deserve.
